

Rev. J. Carl
London

Mr
P. Amos A. Phelps
Boston.

to agents - And I will thank you for either - you had better send them through your Antislavery office to me - if they would come, I prefer, through the Sick's Society. The former is better.

Mr Putnam of Hampden, near Newhaven, will carry this with. He has been our esteemed guest for some weeks.
I have also met Mr Day of Marlborough.
They are fine specimens of New Englanders.
All here write his kindest regards to Mr Phelps and yourself. With soon let me recollect, part at least of your letter.
Yours most truly
James Carile.

while,

done, March 28/45

J. Achensley Inman.

March 28.

Rev. G. Bartlett
London, March 28th 1845.

17

My Dear Brother,

I hope all your books have reached you safely before this. We sent them in two parcels from the Antislavery office, to save expense. They were addressed to you, care of Mr Tappan.

I am glad to hear that your New Church - as you call it in New England - has been opened.

May you long, and happily and usefully occupy that pulpit - having many souls